The placing out of children should be done through State organizations, working with county organizations, which study the growth of aocial agencies and have an understanding of their work through this connection. This is not alone in the State of New York. A similar condition exists in the State of Pennsylvania. The great Pennsylvania Children s Aid Society, with headquarters in Philadelphia, radiates into the counties and is connected with public organizations in several counties. The Chaibman: I think the county probation officer who has a countyTide problem appreciates the need of county organization even more than we who are working in the city, with all sorts of things at our disposai, can possibly realize. Is there any more to be said on this paper? Mb. John M. Nichols, Probation Offices, St. Lawrence County: I am very much interested in this paper by Miss Peck. We have very many organizations in St. Lawrence County, although we have a large county, covering an area of 2,701 square miles, half of it being the Adirondack woods. We have in the county an organization for the protection of children, and it works very well. The only difficulty is when abuses are brought before it with regard to children. When we have children from the towns the first thing the poonnaster of the town attempts to determine is whether the child has been there a year. If there is a...
