Great electronic book and valuable one. It really is simplistic but surprises within the fifty percent from the book. Its been printed in an extremely simple way in fact it is merely right after i finished reading this publication by which in fact modified me, change the way i really believe.

Not illustrated. 1820 Excerpt: .Nothing is more impertinent than for people to be giving their opinion and advice in cases, in which, were they to be their own, themselves would be as much at a loss what to do. But so great an itch have most men to be directors in the affairs of others, either to shew the superiority of their understanding, or their own security and exemption from the ills they would have removed, that they forwardly and conceitedly obtrude their counsel, even at the hazard of their own safety and reputation. THE SPIDER AND THE SILKWORM. How vainly we promise ourselves, that our flimsy productions will be rewarded with immortal honour! A Spider, busied in spreading his web from one side of a room to the other, was asked by an industrious Silkworm, to what end he spent so much time and labour, in making such a number of lines and circles? The Spider angrily replied, Do not disturb me, thou ignorant thing: I transmit my ingenuity to posterity, and fame is the object of my wishes. Just as he had spoken, a chambermaid, coming into the room to feed her Silkworms, saw the Spider at his work; and with one stroke of her broom, swept him away, and destroyed at once his labours and his hope of fame. REFLECTION. He that is employed in works of use, less generally advantages himself or others; while he who toils alone for fame, must often expect to lose his...
